Call prep: the spare parts marketplace.

Our top-priority lead. A Pune founder building a marketplace where wholesalers and distributors sell car and bike parts to garages, parts shops and vehicle owners, with commission per order and his own riders. This sheet is everything you need for the discovery call and the walkthrough.

Target: Growth tier, ₹2.95L · advance ₹1,18,000 by 25 Nov

Proposal draft: sales/spare-parts-proposal-draft.md

01 · BEFORE THE CALL

Your goal for the discovery call.

1
Agree on Phase 1: Pune, B2B only (wholesalers → garages and parts shops).

5/5
All five checks confirmed, especially capital and launch date.

48h
Walkthrough slot booked for the branded demo.

Question sequence (pick in this order)

1. Why him: "What's your background in auto parts? How did you spot this gap?"
2. Supply: "How many wholesalers have agreed to list? Where does their stock data live today: Tally, Busy, Excel?"
3. Demand: "Who are your first 50 garages? How will you get them to order through the app instead of calling their usual shop?"
4. Fitment: "How will a garage know a part fits? Part number, vehicle model, or the seller confirms?"
5. Speed: "What delivery time are you promising garages? Two hours? Same day?"
6. Money: "Commission %? Credit or prepaid for garages? Who pays for delivery?"
7. Returns: "Who absorbs the cost of a wrong-part return?"
8. Decision: "Capital set aside for tech? Who else decides? When do you want the first order to go through?"

If he can't answer 2 and 3, he isn't ready for a ₹3L build. Offer the Launch tier, or ask him to come back once 5 sellers have agreed.

02 · STEERING THE SCOPE

He'll want everything. You sell Phase 1.

> SAY THIS
>
> B2B, B2C आणि pan-India एकदम सुरू करणं हे marketplaces चे पैसे संपण्याचं सगळ्यात मोठं कारण आहे. आधी Pune मध्ये garages आणि parts shops साठी B2B सुरू करू. Garages ना part numbers माहीत असतात, ते रोज order करतात, आणि त्यांना तुम्ही स्वतः भेटून onboard करू शकता. ते चाललं की investors आणि sellers दोघांनाही proof मिळतो.
>
> Starting B2B, B2C and pan-India at once is the biggest reason marketplaces run out of money. Let's start B2B in Pune for garages and parts shops. Garages know part numbers, order daily, and you can onboard them in person. Once that works, both investors and sellers have proof.

The three options (from the proposal draft)

Tier	What's in it	Timeline	Price
Launch	Buyer web app (works on phone), seller panel, admin, basic commission; riders assigned by admin.	6–7 weeks	₹1.75L
Growth ★	Android buyer app + web, seller panel, rider app with OTP delivery, full commission and settlements.	10–12 weeks	₹2.95L
Scale	Growth + iOS, live GPS tracking, basic vehicle-owner (B2C) module.	14–16 weeks	₹4.25L

Growth advance (40%): ₹1,18,000. Launch advance: ₹70,000. Care plan from ₹10k/month on top. Cost check: Growth ≈ 2 freelancers × 2 months ≈ ₹1.2L, so the price clears the 2× floor.

Objections he's likely to raise

He says	You say
"I need B2C too, that's where the money is."	"B2C needs a fitment database and marketing spend. Prove B2B in Pune first; Scale adds a basic B2C module when you're ready."
"₹2.95L is a lot before I've earned anything."	"Then start with Launch at ₹1.75L: sellers, garages and orders working in 6–7 weeks. Upgrade to the rider app when orders grow."
"Can you do it on commission instead?"	"I take equity or commission only on top of a paid build. Launch is the low-risk way to start."
"Have you built a parts marketplace?"	"I built a multi-vendor booking marketplace for a European client: vendors, catalogue, orders, payments, dashboards. Same engine. You'll see it with your brand in 48 hours."
"How will you load thousands of parts?"	"Sellers upload Excel in bulk; we map the columns once. That's in every tier."
